XV. and XVI. CENTURY Uluborlu ACCIDENT
In this work, XV. and XVI. Hamid centuries, the Uluborlu accident in the Sandjak political, social, cultural and economic status, and other resources by using many archive documents have been presented. In addition, the historical process, and where social movements were spent in the region. In addition, earv villages, hamlets and nomadic shepherds, were also discussed. An important part of the villages in this period seem today. In this study, the reasons for this are discussed. Uluborlu accident, XV. and XVI. centuries, today's Senirkent, Uluğbey, such as counties and towns in Büyükabadca and Yassören covers, historical and cultural places mentioned in this study revealed the structure.
Uluborlu accident in the center of population, commerce, culture and social respects Turkey Seljuk Empire, Principality and Ottoman period Hamid Sons has been one of the important centers. For this reason, the city's long history is discussed in terms of change in the process. In this context, one of the points in the city center and villages foundations were particularly conspicuous. These foundations, numbers, with regard to the types and locations of the region's social and cultural structure of the impacts have been assessed.
As a result, this book will make significant contributions to the region and the city historiography.