In this study, supply chain activities in costs which are classified as warehousing, transportation, inventory management, customer service, demand forecast, material handling, packaging, selection of plant-warehouse and reverse logistics are considered. Also, it is examined to cost differences between outsourcing or not outsourcing this activities.